ABOUT THE CORNDOGS

The Corndogs are a proud member of the Blue Ridge League, a new summer collegiate baseball league established in 2025. The Blue Ridge League stretches from the Charlotte area, up through the Piedmont Triad, and into Virginia and West Virginia. Teams include the Carolina Disco Turkeys, Marion Hungry Mothers, Uwharrie Wampus Cats, and the three-time Prospect League champion West Virginia Miners.

The Blue Ridge League provides opportunities for college baseball players to experience wood bat baseball in preparation for the dream of one day playing professional baseball. Eligible players are current college baseball players from four-year NCAA or NAIA accredited institutions or any junior colleges.

The Corndogs focus on two things – player development and creating community. We host players from all over the country and strive to create an environment for each player to succeed and develop. We also want to bring fans together to enjoy summer college baseball in the Queen City!
